Sewage Plant Ok'd by Board

The State Sanitary Water Board approved plans and specifications for Antioch's proposed enlarged sewage treatment plant last Friday, Oct. 13.

Engineer David R. Miller reported that approval of the sewage system plans is expected some time next week. "Both are separate projects," Miller stated, "and are considered for approval separately."

A $65,000 federal aid grant is being applied for in Chicago by the village attorney, who will confer with state officials regarding the procedures. This grant, if approved, will apply only to the Sewage Plant, Miller confirmed.

On February 25 of this year, Antioch approved a $325,000 bond issue for the sewage system. An additional amount of $300,000 in revenue bonds will be issued to augment the general obligation bonds, thereby rounding out the expected improvement cost to $625,000.

The general plans include enlargement of the present sewage plant, additional sewage mains, and replacement of mains serving over-capacity loads.

Mains will be laid throughout the entire section of Antioch east of the Soo Line tracks. This area includes Broadway, Depot, Anita and Main Streets, including Oakwood Knolls.

Grade School PTA Has Meeting

The October meeting of the Antioch Grade School PTA was held in the gymnasium Monday evening, with about 100 persons in attendance.

The members voted to continue with the health program of last year, and plans were reported completed on the Smorgasbord, which will be on Saturday, Oct. 21, at the school.

President Harrison Brown introduced a panel of parents, including Larry Leon, Warren Polley and Clarence Larson. They discussed grading of report cards, when to see the teacher, and the importance of physical education. Parents in the audience asked questions or gave their point of view on these subjects, and all agreed it was a very informative and interesting meeting.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by mothers of seventh grade students.

Room count was won by Mrs. Barthel's third grade, and second place by Mrs. Hart's eighth grade.

1931 Antioch Class Gathers At Reunion

The first class reunion in thirty years of the 1931 Antioch High School graduating class was held recently at Lorenz's Smart Country House.

The 1931 group of 40 was the largest class to graduate from ATHS to date.

A committee consisting of Olive Hansen Martin, Helen Pedersen Nelson, Edmund Strang and William Yopp, who was master of ceremonies, secured the addresses of eleven teachers and students, with more than a quarter of a century having clouded their past.

Comments were made by Miss Alice Smith, Miss Cornelia Roberts and Dr. G. G. Reed of Oshkosh, Wis., attending teachers. They were presented with flowers by the group.

A name tag was presented to everyone who entered the get-together by Mrs. Mildred Hulik Chambers, school secretary. Letters were read from Mrs. Ruby Richey Erwin, Lillian Schroeder Limage, Dr. LeRoy Stark, Hans Von Holwede and Leland Watson, absent members of the group. More letters of Alma Grulich Boehling, Richard Martin, Lillian Wells Ames and Ruth Perry Clabough, were also cited.

Those classmates in attendance were William Yopp, Jasper McCormick, Vera Bown Mair, Edmund Strang, Robert Hughes, Olive Hansen Martin, Charles Florio, Jack Neahouse, Helen Pedersen Nelson, Elizabeth Anzinger Anderson, Ward Edwards, Ruth Mapes Baethke, Clara Christensen Vose, Olive Mesage Hallwas, Hazel Sheehan Justice, John Dupre, Vernon Webb, Ardis Toft Petersen, Virginia Curtis Alvers, Russell Nickerson, Marguerite Galliger O'Connor, Kenneth Van Patten, Esther Anderson Dolan, Kenneth Denman, Fanny Westlake Yates, Margaret McCormick Milner, Charles Holmes, Helen Simonsen Ceiling, Lois Hunter Gerber, Leo-

The cement foundation of the New Post Office in Antioch has reached completion. The estimated cost of the new building figures at between $75,000 and $100,000.

Signs of the constant industrial growth can be seen on the Sequoia Industrial area. Skach Manufacturing, a new industry entering Antioch soon, has already plotted out their approved lot.

Salem HS Board Has Planned Mixer Prom Withdrawn From Calendar

The regular meeting of the board of education of Central High School, Salem, Wis., was held Tuesday, Oct. 10, with all members present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as read. Current bills were honored for payment.

A board-faculty social mixer was planned for the evening of December 22 to be held at the high school.

Principal A. H. Erickson reported on the paving of the school yard and the desirability of applying gravel to an area on the west end of the school yard. He also read a letter from the department of Public Instruction notifying the district of its having received the integrated rating for the 1960-61 school year. It was also voted that non-teaching personnel be included in the present hospitalization insurance coverage as applying to the teaching staff, commencing next July.

In other action, it was voted that due to the short period of attendance at the prom and the increasing amount of unsupervised activity connected with the prom, the Board of Education has decided to withdraw the event from the school calendar for the present time.

Following the examination of an English syllabus now in use by all high school classes, it was voted to forward a letter of commendation to Dan Doone who did such excellent work in its formulation.

Peter Fox, a board member, gave an explanation of the conditions of the buildings existing on the property recently secured as a school forest site. It was decided to dispose of the buildings by sale to all interested bidders.

The school auditor firm of Herman Gundlach requested to be released from Central's audit because of the increased demands of their commercial clients. No new auditor was selected. On Oct. 24, the board will meet with Derald West, school architect, to close out the accounts on the recent addition.

Carpentier Cautions State Drivers To Use Preventives

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier recently asked organized labor to help "extend the safety consciousness of the factory and the shop to the automobile."

In a talk before the state convention of the American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial Organizations, Mr. Carpentier pointed out that in plants, factories and shops such safety equipment as goggles, helmets, protective clothing and safety devices on machines are widely used.

"It is a sad commentary on human nature," he said, "that these same people who would not think of performing their jobs without that equipment, scorn the use of safety belts in what is probably the most dangerous machine they operate—the automobile."

Secretary Carpentier pointed out that the Illinois traffic safety program, triggered by enactment of the Drivers License Law he sponsored in 1953, has made commendable progress in the last several years, but this year traffic fatalities are on the increase.

Man-hours lost because of traffic accidents are just as costly and the physical suffering is no less than in industrial accidents, he said. It is to the best interests of both labor and management to encourage the extension of the safety consciousness of the factory and shop to the automobile, he declared.

Secretary Carpentier also asked for support of legislation he has proposed that physicians and psy-

Sequoia, which is self-supporting and relies upon subscription and advertisement, receives no school fund support of any kind, Lawrence Eggleston reported.

The use of the Kaleidoscope related the words published. Editors of the award-winning book were Diane Jaros of Antioch and Nancy Cribb of Lake Villa. Lawrence Eggleston was the adviser of the publication.

This event marks the second year in which the Sequoia has placed second in the Columbia judging.

Senator Douglas will report on his recent trip to Europe and West Berlin, and also on the past session of Congress.

A capacity group is expected for the dinner, and Jadrach urged that reservations be made early to avoid disappointment.

December 5 of this year will mark the special election for the position of Police Magistrate of Antioch. Rudolph Eckert and Herbert Horton, both of Antioch, will contest the open judgeship left by the death of Richard Folbrink, former Antioch Police Magistrate.

Horton, a dairy representative of Borden's Dairy in Antioch, opposed Folbrink in the last spring election for the post. He has headed the Antioch Township Republican Club for several years.

Eckert, who is comparatively new to politics, seems to have strong support in the race it has been indicated. Eckert is the proprietor of the Gamble store in Antioch. His petition to run in the judgeship race was filed Monday, Oct. 16.

Former police magistrate Elmer E. Brook did not enter the highly sought after positional race. Brook was unsuccessful in his attempt to secure the post in the last election.

ATH Sequoia Takes Award

The Columbia Scholastic Press Association of Columbia University in New York recently announced that in its annual judging of High School Yearbooks, Sequoia, Antioch's HS Yearbook, has placed second in the whole Lake County.

This placement was based on the school's size of 601 to 900 students producing offset yearbooks.

Highland Park HS was the only other school to receive similar awards in Lake County.

Sequoia, which is self-supporting and relies upon subscription and advertisement, receives no school fund support of any kind, Lawrence Eggleston reported.

EDITORIAL

Antioch's Life-Savers

The public servant or the man in the public office, continually under mass observation, often receives severe and occasionally unjust criticism.

One of the most prominent groups in our community, namely the Antioch Rescue Squad, we feel, is far above the criticism that is sometimes leveled at them from uninformed persons.

To begin with, the organization is comprised of volunteer members, who, upon hearing the siren blasting them to duty, drop their hammers, their pencils, the general utensils of their everyday jobs and dash madly for the firehouse.

We feel that such unselfish devotion to the cause of aiding the dying, the lame, the sick, the hurt, coupled with excellent performance of the group does not warrant critical remarks stemming from ignorant prejudices.

Several days ago a reporter of the Antioch News followed the Rescue Squad out of town as it answered a routine call. The squad raced madly down the road, its siren open. They arrived at a scene of pathetic hysteria. If they had delayed for only a few minutes, the attempted suicide that greeted them would have been successful. However, they swiftly opened windows to let gas out, applied the necessary treatment to stem the tide of the depressive's blood, and were soon on their way to the hospital. Their performance, like all of their calls, was speedy, efficient, and life-saving. Moments after the squad left, the sheriff arrived. A doctor arrived after they had already saved the individual's life.

This was only one of the fine performances of the Rescue Squad throughout the week.

Antioch is indeed fortunate to have such men protect the safety of all the persons in this community and the surrounding area.

If only those who criticize this organization would only realize that more than many human beings are alive today due to its efforts, they would not be so readily disposed to passing their unfavorable comments.

In addition it must be realized that the Squad cannot operate without adequate financial assistance, and although several conscientious and civic-minded persons here have already given money to aid the Squad, more is still required to bolster its operations.

For those unwilling to support this group, even in the most meager way, we might suggest that upon hearing the warning siren you think about the Squad going out to rescue one of your own loved ones. In this sense, the squad may mean more to you. Perhaps you may be prompted to donate to its ever needing fund. If so, we are sure that the Squad will be grateful and so will those whose lives you are helping to save.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

Because I have repeatedly called attention to the need for a new revenue amendment to the State Constitution, many citizens of Illinois expected it to be placed on the agenda of the special session of the Illinois General Assembly. I would like to report the circumstances which prompted my decision not to place a new revenue article on the call.

In my judgment and that of experienced legislative leaders, an amendment covering a subject so important as revenue can only be achieved on the basis of broad bipartisan agreement and understanding of both the need for an amendment and the consequences of its adoption.

Last April I appointed a Revenue Commission to study Illinois' present and future financial needs. However, the appropriation I asked to fund the commission was not granted. The amount finally appropriated for this study was insufficient to complete the comprehensive work so sorely needed. One of the items on this special call, therefore, is to grant this commission the funds to complete its work.

I find no disagreement from members of the legislature as to the need for a new revenue amendment. But at present time there is some disagreement as to what form this amendment should take, a fact which emphatically demonstrates the need for data such as this commission will obtain.

It will appoint additional members to this commission from the legislature representing both political parties. With additional members and sufficient funds, it is my hope that harmony can be achieved between the executive and legislative branches of government in pursuit of the solution to Illinois' financial future.

The commission is specifically charged with studying and evaluating Illinois' sources of revenue as well as expenditures, making recommendations where economies in state government can be achieved and preparing a financial chart for the future based upon realistic estimates of the state's needs in the years ahead.

It is not to prepare a revenue article. It will only make recommendations to the legislature, and the people of Illinois can determine what course we will follow.

A report from this commission is necessary, I feel, so that we can realistically approach a revised revenue structure and a new revenue article. This is why I did not include a revenue article in the subjects to be considered in this special session.

The American Experience

By Ray Puechner

The islands . . . are most beautiful, of a thousand shapes, and all accessible and filled with trees of a thousand kinds and tall, and they seem to touch the sky . . . I saw them as green and beautiful as they are in Spain in May, and some of them were flowering, some with fruit . . . And there were singing the nightingale, and other little birds of a thousand kinds in the month of November, there where I went."

These words were written by Christopher Columbus during his return voyage to Spain after his discovery of America. They are taken from what is referred to as "Columbus' Letter to Santangel." The letter is actually his official report to the King and Queen of Spain on the results of his voyage. Santangel was a friend of Columbus in the Spanish court who transmitted the letter to the Rulers for him. Translated anew for the first time since 1893 by the eminent naval historian and biographer of Columbus, Samuel Eliot Morrison, it can be said to be "the first of all Americana."

The letter is interesting not only as an account of the epochal voyage and discovery, but also, as a personal document reflecting the attitudes and feelings of Columbus himself. For example, Columbus did believe that he had reached the East—"As soon as I arrived in the Indies . . ." At the same time he admitted his failure to discover the fabled cities of Cathay which had been described by such earlier adventures as Marco Polo—"I sent two men upcountry to learn if there were a king or great cities. They traveled for three days and found an infinite number of small villages and people without number, but nothing of importance . . ."

Though at turns both optimistic and candid, the letter is also of interest for what it does not contain. Evidently wishing to be received more favorably, he makes no mention of the near mutiny of his men which occurred on October 10, 1492 nor of the loss of the flagship Santa Maria on Christmas Eve which forced the founding of the settlement of La Navidad, where forty men were to perish before he returned on his second voyage.

The main body of the letter deals with what Columbus saw and with the reactions of the natives to the Spaniards. They spoke of him as the "man who had come from the sky." He describes them as of "very keen intelligence," nonetheless, and of "good appearance." "In these islands I have so far found no human monstrosities, as many expected," he writes. He speaks also of the climate, of the wealth to be derived from the land—gold, spice, and a "thousand other things of value," concluding with the words: "So, since our Redeemer has given this victory to our most illustrious King and Queen, and to their famous realms, in so great a matter, for this all Christendom ought to feel joyful and make great celebrations and give solemn thanks . . ."

The story of Columbus' four voyages to the New World, the series of disappointments he suffered before his death in the year 1506 are well known. It is one of the ironies of history that chance should not even have allowed his name to be conferred upon the New World which he discovered. Instead, it came to be called America. A pro-

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the members of Antioch Post 748 of The American Legion, I wish to take this opportunity during the observance of National Newspaper Week, Oct. 18-21, 1961, to express our appreciation for the great service which your newspaper has performed for our community.

We of the American Legion—men and women who have served in the uniform of our country during the three wars of the Twentieth Century—are well aware of the vital role a free press has in the perpetuation of our American ideal. This nation has come to its greatness on the foundation of a citizenry well-informed through newspapers free of governmental control and written and edited by courageously patriotic individuals.

The principles and goals of the nation's press and the American Legion are inseparable. Therefore, we extend not only our greetings and commendations on this occasion of National Newspaper Week 1961 but also our sincere wish for success of your continued endeavors in behalf of our community, state and nation.

Coach Bob Walther has asked the Antioch News to print two letters which were sent to principals of grade schools and parents of boys playing on the team. Needless to say, it is our belief that support of our hometown team should begin at home.

Along The Way with Annie Mae

That lovely auburn haired lady is with us again and just in case you haven't seen her yet, hop in the family jalopy and take a spin around this beautiful lake region. If you haven't guessed by now her name is Autumn—and she's right here in the latest of fashion.

Speaking of fashion, the hit of the Feast and Fashion luncheon held on Oct. 11, by the Evening Circle of the Methodist Church, most certainly was—Lorraine Cheetham in a sparkling green wool tweed coat, and Pixie hat topped by tiny feathers. Jeanine Andrews brought the second batch of Oohs and Aahs in a shocking pink sheath and ditto colored Maribou hat.

Bouquets to the handful of Women of the Moose who served a delightful Mother and Daughter banquet recently. Too bad they didn't mention the two, four-generation families present. Congrats to the Dr. E. J. Warners on the new 24kt. gold filling in their house, wearing pink booties.

Good news from Chicago, Carl Barthel's well on the mend after surgery. Hurry back, Carl, you gave all the boys quite a scare.

All those dewy-eyed young things you see around town have a good reason for weeping, one of our most eligible young bachelors is talking about a wedding day. Good luck, J. F. and I don't mean Kennedy.

In case you think you're having a lot of ups and downs, look again, it's just hundreds of yo-yos all going at once. Oh me! Shades of the good old days, or maybe you're not as old as I am.

Well, as they say in vaudeville, (don't tell me you don't remember that either?) "It's only the beginning folks!" This is the start of a column for you and about you and I would be very interested in your comments. If you care to send them to this paper, address them to me, Annie Mae. I like to see my name in print. Note on front of students' school book, "Caution, be sure brain is in gear before putting mouth into motion." Smart kid! Remember whatever you do or whatever you say, it may be heard Along the Way. . . . Annie Mae

How can we make them believe that it takes real courage to be 'chicken' . . . the kind of a teenager who can say 'no' to the crowd, refute the dares and become the solid citizen they term 'squares'?"

Inside Antioch High

By Mike Books

It was relatively quiet around the halls of ATHS this week after the bustling activities of Homecoming the week before.

Results of the elections for Senior Executive Board were announced last week. The following members of the Senior Class were chosen: Judy Alm, Dave Bonner, Joe Enis, Phil Fahy, Ron Gable, Cheryl Lemke, Frank Nausea, Joe Pleviak, Denny Pogose, Judy Vejvoda, Don Verkeat, and Bruce Willpert.

Tryouts for the Junior Class play were held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The tryouts were opened to the entire student body with Juniors receiving preference for the available parts. This year's play will be "Arsenic and Old Lace" by Joseph Kesselring. The director will be Mr. Kenneth Smouse assisted by Miss Ruth Nickelson.

On Saturday morning, October 21, the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) will be given at the high school. The PSAT is offered by the College Entrance Examination Board to help students who are interested in going to college. It provides an indication of the student's verbal and mathematical abilities — those abilities that are needed most in college work.

Registration for the 1961-1962 Varsity Basketball Squad was held last Friday.

Another new faculty member is Mr. Nicholas Ross, a German teacher. Mr. Ross is single and resides on Little Silver Lake in Antioch. He is originally from Chicago. Mr. Ross has attended various colleges. He studied at the Urbana Campus of the University of Illinois for three and a half years, one semester at Roosevelt University and three semesters at Northern Illinois University. He also spent one summer at Chicago Teachers College. Mr. Ross has a BA degree and majored in German.

Commenting on what he likes most about ATHS, he said, "The staff and students at ATHS are very friendly. They are not snobbish. You are treated as an equal, whether you have been here twenty years or twenty days."

Mr. Ross' future plans are to get a Master's Degree and be successful in whatever he does. "Marriage is a wild possibility," said Mr. Ross, laughingly.

Mabel, who has been with the Gaston family since 1918, has been setting type for the Antioch News since 1931.

So, we would like to take this opportunity (in order that she cannot protest while she's away) to give thanks for her dutiful service, her amazing performance of spelling accuracy, and her racing fingers while setting type, which always seem to be a little ahead of the editor.

Have a nice time, Mabel!

"Bobby" Moss, Chicago Reviewer, Speaks To Antioch Woman's Club

The Antioch Woman's Club met at the Scout House Monday afternoon, Oct. 16, with some 60 members and guests in attendance.

Mrs. Norman Jedele, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Charles (Bobby) Moss, a very talented book reviewer of Chicago, formerly of Atlanta, Ga., who charmed her audience with a penetrating review of Irving Stone's biographical novel, "The Agony and The Ecstasy." She highlighted Michaelangelo's life from the age of six through his eighty-eighth birthday, tracing his ambitions, accomplishments and disappointments in the fields of painting, sculpturing, engineering, architecture and writing.

Mrs. Moss recently returned from Italy where she viewed Michaelangelo's paintings and works of sculpture. Pictures of these enriched the portrayal of his life. She emphasized the indomitable spirit of his genius, and ended her review with an inspirational appeal to her audience to try to develop talent and

Mrs. Charles "Bobby" Moss ambition within themselves for personal satisfaction.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Watson.

Antioch Edged By Ela-Vernon Bears 12-7

Sequoits Hit Back With TD Near Finish

By Mike Brooks

Perfect football weather prevailed Saturday afternoon as the Antioch Sequoits traveled to the hostile frontiers of Ela-Vernon High School.

The Ela-Vernon Bears won the toss of the coin and elected to receive. On an exchange of fumbles, Ela-Vernon started their passing attack. QB Art Hunsaker rolled out and threw a 30 yd. aerial to HB Bob Rohlwing, which placed the ball on Antioch's 40 yd. line. Hunsaker then called his signals and threw a 20 yd. pass to end, Tom McReynolds. Antioch's fired up line held them on the 20 yd. line.

On the exchange of downs, Antioch's yard gaining machinery started to function smoothly. QB Joe Pleviak oiled up the gears with two end runs of 6 and 8 yards. Pleviak then passed to Les Geist for another 6 yd. gain. HB Ritch Fitch then took the pigskin and dug for 12 yds. The quarter ended with the score 0-0.

Furlan and Fowles carried for another 13 yds. The Bears started to settle down to the business at hand and finally stopped the Sequoits' march.

Ela-Vernon's Rohlwing cracked through the Antioch line for two long gains of 13 and 15 yds. Then the Sequoits held them on their own 20 yd. line.

Bears Dash for Score

On third down Antioch took to the air. Ela-Vernon's George Scholer intercepted and raced across the goal line. The extra point attempt was low. The score stood at 6-0 at the end of the quarter.

On another exchange of downs the Bears started another drive into the Sequoits' territory. Rohlwing made two, up the middle plunges of 5 and 10 yds. Hunsaker then threw to McReynolds in the end zone, but an offside penalty against the Bears nullified the touchdown and the score stood at 6-0 at the end of the quarter.

The Bears were pounding deep into Sequoit territory when Antioch recovered a fumble on their own 7 yd. line. The Sequoits were forced to punt from their 13 yd. line. The Bears ran it back to the 15 yd. line and two plays later halfback Steve Belcher ran around right end for their second tally of the afternoon. The extra point attempt was no good and the score was 12-0.

Antioch Tallies a TD

Antioch then began a drive on their own 15 yd. line. Pleviak passed to End Bob Krieger for 9 yds. Tom Furlan was injured on a pass interference play. The penalty put the ball on Ela-Vernon's 45 yd. line. Pleviak pitched out to Fowles who went for 10 more yds. Still another penalty against the Bears placed the ball on their own 13 yd. line. Pleviak passed to Krieger for a 7 yd. gain. With the clock showing 3:41 to go in the final quarter, Pleviak climaxed the 85 yd. drive by plunging through a wide hole, opened up with the alert Antioch line, for the TD. Ron Gable added the extra point, making the score 12-7.

Ela-Vernon was held back from another TD by a holding penalty against them which pushed them back to their 15 yard line.

Antioch took over with 38 seconds left in the game. The final gun sounded as the Sequoits were making a last desperate attempt to score.

Neither of these teams had entered the victory column this season. The game could have gone either way. The Sequoits fought a hard and rugged game. They were subject to a few bad breaks that cost them the game. They were moving the ball much faster and smoother than in previous games. Their passing attack functioned quite well. The Sequoits travel to Round Lake next Saturday afternoon. Sophomore game time is 12:30 and the Varsity game starts at 2:30.

Top Chain O' Lakes Anglers Compete In Fishing Contest

Five Chain O' Lakes region anglers, including the state champion, Harold Smiley, will be among 13 northern Illinois sportsmen who will compete in the World Series of Fresh Water fishing championship at the Grand Lake of the Cherokees at Grove, Okla., Oct. 23-28.

Smiley, of Round Lake Park, heads the region anglers including Barney Shunnesson, of Channel Lake Boat House, and Ed Krupo, of the Happy Acres ranch and marina, both of Antioch; Seymour Carlson, a Chicago baker who also makes his home on Fox Lake, and Bob Lang, of Ingleside.

Smiley, by virtue of his triumph in the recent state fishing meet conducted by Shunnesson at Channel Lake and Lake Catherine, will be a co-favorite among the Illinois delegation with Art Wallsten, of Des Plaines and a member of "Fishing's Hall of Fame."

In addition to a title trophy, Smiley's expenses to and from Grove, which is about 625 miles from Chicago, will be provided for by Shunnesson. Tom Durant, producer of the Chicago Sportsmen's Vacation and Trailer Show, held each February in the International Amphitheatre, awarded the plaque, along with a wallet of green to compensate for the state champion being away from work for the week in the World Series.

Other Illinois representatives in the World Series are Ray Gray, Chicago outdoor writer; Bob Mummet, Chicago; Bill O'Neil, Aurora; Fred Owens and Bill Laurent, Wilmette; Bill Hoffman, of Evanston, the 1960 state champion.

During the six days at Grove, the fishermen will angle for black bass—smallmouth and largemouth, spotted bass, white bass, channel catfish, and crappie. The angler with the most points after the competition will be recognized as the world champion.

The defending champion is Harold Ensley, of Kansas City, Mo., who won last year in Michigan. Gray finished 12th in the 56-man field for the best showing by an Illinois representative.

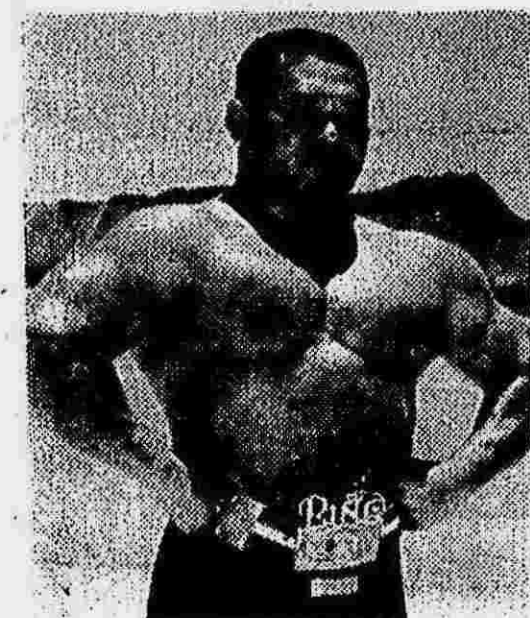

(Age 10) William Ganzer, 1st; Dennis Rockow, 2nd and Donald A. Gaa, Jr., 3rd.

The prizes were given to the winning boys by Larry Ryan of Lyons-Ryan Ford, who sponsored the contest in this area. Nationally, the P-P & K Program is sponsored by the Ford Division of the Ford Motor Company.

Jap Tag Team To Cause Turmoil At Twin Lakes

The Japanese tag team of Mr. Sato and The Great Togo will wrestle the team of Carl Engstrom, of Oak Park, and Jack Allen, of Milwaukee in an all star card, Saturday, Oct. 21, in the Wonderbar Ball Room in Twin Lakes, Wis.

The team is making its Chicago debut this week. The two Jaos combine jiu jitsu and Judo with the catch-as-catch-can American style.

The "Great" Tosh Togo

It is a question of whether the jiu jitsu and judo moves are legal in a catch-as-catch-can American bout, however the Japs plead ignorant of the American language and pass off their illegal actions with the excuse that they are not familiar with the English language.

Both Engstrom and Allen are experienced wrestlers and have signified that if they beat their Japanese rivals they want no alibi comebacks from the Japs. Engstrom and his partner may not protest the style of their foes for that reason.

Mr. Sato and the Great Togo are an insidious pair, bowing to their idol before the match gets under way and using great pretense of their righteousness.

As a novel match, there will be a ladies' battle with Bette Clark of Virginia meeting Lady Atlas, of Milwaukee. Wrestling fans never fail to register astonishment at the fast action afforded by the ladies and their ability to drop kick, body slam and use flying tackles.

To complete the show, Gypsy Joe,

Local Group Takes 1st In Touch League

Pittman Motors captured sole possession of first place in the Waukegan touch football league by downing previously undefeated Murphy's Raiders 14-12 in a hard fought battle at Belvidere Park Sunday afternoon.

Defensive halfback Bob Hoyle intercepted a Murphy pass on the second play of the game and returned it 49 yards for a touchdown. An extra point pass from Don Dyles to Wayne Swanson made it 7-0.

Murphy's scored early in the second quarter on a 35 yard pass interception but missed their extra point try and the half ended 7-6.

In the third quarter, Chuck Schuth hurled a 68 yard pass to Don Pyles in the end zone, followed by a Schuth to Doyle extra point to make the score 14-6.

Late in the third quarter Murphy's scored their second touchdown on a 55 yard pass play but again missed their extra point.

Murphy's drove down field twice in the fourth quarter, only to fall short of pay dirt by pass interceptions.

Outstanding defensive lineplay by Don Pyles, Wayne Swanson and Dick Mika enabled halfbacks Bob Doyle and Russ Cote to pick off five enemy passes. Linemen Dick Carlucci and Joel Armstrong shared the offensive spotlight with Chuck Schuth to wrap up the victory.

the Giebetrotter, meets Bob Sabre, of Chicago. The latter scaling 200 pounds, has been in mat action one year and already has the experience of a veteran. His opponent has wrestled throughout the country and claims several state titles, including the junior heavyweight championship of the northwest.

DiPietra Cops Channel Race

John Di Pietra of Chicago drove his Switzerland pleasure boat to victory in the annual five hour marathon sponsored by the Chain O' Lakes Boat Club on October 15. This was DiPietra's third attempt at this grueling test of driver and equipment. His Mercury powered hull completed 99 laps of approximately two mile length to average nearly 40 mph.

Lou Eppel's catamaran hull powered by twin Johnsons led the race into the fourth hour with 82 laps when a swivel bracket forced the boat out of competition.

Motors were lost into the water, boats sank and were near sinking, batteries gave out, motor brackets broke and lower units fell off during the course of the event. Drivers were completely exhausted. However, no injuries were encountered.

Vince Weishaupl of North Lake drove his "Miss Pronounced" to victory for the first hour event to capture the well-known Helen Waller Memorial Trophy. Weishaupl averaged approximately 60 mph before his boat started to come apart forcing him out of the race.

The Ray Pregenzer Memorial trophy and the Blarney Island trophy both went to John DiPietra on his winning the overall five hour event.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the
National Baby Care Council
A MOST PRECIOUS SENSE
By Dr. Alden N. Haffner
Executive Director
Vision Conservation Institute

The more a mother knows about her baby's eyes and vision, the more fascinating it will be to watch baby grow and develop.

Baby specialists over the years have pointed out many times that vision can actually be the key to a fuller understanding of the needs of the individual child.

A mother looks at her baby's eyes to see whether he is happy, whether he is angry, whether he is puzzled or whether he is willing to cooperate. It is also true that if a child is not feeling well, it will first become evident in his eyes.

It is important to understand that vision is baby's most precious sense. Through his eyes he will gather more information about things around him than through any other part of his body. It is a truism that baby depends more on his vision than on his hearing, taste, smell and touch combined.

Consequently, how well your baby sees may also determine how he will grow and how he will develop as he grows. Science has shown that vision may affect a child's body posture as well as his personality.

For example, when a child does not see properly with both eyes working together as one, he may soon begin tilting his head or he will squirm into an unnatural posture as he avoids using one eye while looking at a toy or a picture book. The danger in such a situation is that he may develop a head tilt, or a shoulder slump or even a curved spine, in addition to having poor vision.

If a child is too nearsighted, he may have no interest in playing games with other children. If he is too farsighted, he may avoid such close activity as reading and writing. If he's cross-eyed he may have difficulty in focusing his eyes properly, an eye that has been turned too long may even lose some of its vision. These are some of the eye problems parents should be alert for as they watch their child grow. They can affect a child in many different ways.

Proper vision is a very important element in your child's growth and should not go neglected. Professional eye care should be sought to help correct these various errors of nature.

Book Review

By Marian Harden, Librarian

A knowledge of the Supreme Court is essential to an understanding of the federal system which governs the United States. Patricia C. Acheson, in her new book "The Supreme Court", traces the role of the Supreme Court in the severe challenges of sectional controversy, civil war, adjustment to the industrial revolution, and preservation of the spirit of the Constitution. "The Supreme Court" was given to the Antioch Township Library in memory of Richard B. Seyfarth.

Robert Penn Warren has written a penetrating essay on how the Civil War shaped the modern United States. "The Legacy of the Civil War" traces the influence of that conflict on our economy, our social institutions, our domestic politics, and our foreign policy. "The Legacy of the Civil War" was given to the library in memory of Hanford E. Shepard.

Wallace Nutting's "Furniture Treasury" has established itself as a classic in the field, indispensable to collectors, decorators, and all who are interested in American furniture. The new one volume edition, recently published, contains all of the five thousand illustrations of the original two volume set. "Furniture Treasury" was given in memory of Mrs. Emily Kral.

"Traditional Quilting", by Mavis Fitzrandolph, contains a wealth of information garnered during a lifetime interest in quilting. Chapter one outlines a brief history of this fascinating and thrift pastime. The rest of the book describes various tools and methods used in the art. Many illustrations of quilts made in the past and of patterns to be used make this a valuable book for the novice as well as the veteran quilter. "Traditional Quilting" was given in memory of Caroline Kral.

J. R. Humphreys does not complain about "progress" in his book, "The Lost Towns & Roads of America". But he does tell about the thrill of passing through a colonial village, inspecting a covered bridge, or watching a paddle-wheel river boat. In a cross country jaunt, Mr. Humphreys describes one hundred and fifty sights of long ago America discovered beyond the bill boards and neon lights of today. "The Lost Towns & Roads of America" was given in memory of Richard Folbrink.

Radiation: How Much Is Too Much?

By Harold N. Schwinger, M.D.

Whenever any professional group makes use of a potentially dangerous tool, certain protective standards must be set within that group. This is no less true of the radiologists and their use of medical x-ray. This group of physicians, to which I belong, has long taken steps to protect both patient and staff from needless exposure to the high-energy rays with which they work. Radiologists, along with radiation physicists, have several special committees dealing with the problems of radiation protection.

The "maximum permissible dose" considered safe for the individual has been set by the National Committee on Radiation Protection. This group of radiologists, radiation physicists and related scientists, nominated by various national scientific societies to set up safe standards, has been active since 1929. They recommend 5 roentgens a year as the amount of whole-body radiation which medical radiation workers and others may safely receive during their careers. A roentgen or "r" is the unit of measure for radiations.

"But I read I might get 5r just having my teeth x-rayed," a patient told me the other day. "Could I safely have my chest x-rayed the same year?" Certainly, and whatever else the doctor recommends. Five roentgens to the jaw has only a small fraction of the effect of 5 to the whole body. A fatal dose would be as high as 400 or 500r to the entire body, in a short time.

But because there is still some question concerning the effect of radiation upon the germ cells from which coming generations will be fashioned, extra protection of the sex glands of any possible future parents is necessary.

With the coming of the atomic age, others have become concerned about radiation. International conferences have been held and various standards and requirements adopted as to exposure levels and protection. But because the field of nuclear energy is much younger than the field of radiology, these groups have much more work ahead of them before the other uses of radiation can be considered as safe as the medical use of radiation. The hazards associated with nuclear radiation are so controlled as to be considered negligible. Every day, the nuclear physicist is making use of the beneficial aspects of nuclear energy, just as today's radiologist makes use of the beneficial aspects of medical radiation — for the betterment of mankind.

MOULTON, TEX. EAGLE

"Never before in our history as in recent years have the American people so complacently accepted handouts and returned to ask for more and more of the same. We wonder what has happened to the American spirit when our forefathers did not receive tax aid from the Federal government when they built this country—its roads, schools, homes, hospitals, etc. They used their own savings and they used the taxes collected at the local level.

"This country has been greatly blessed and we have been recipients of the greatest gift of all times—freedom. But at the present rate, it's slowly ebbing away with the lack of character, respected work and working for self-respect."

LIABILITY FOR ACTS OF CHILDREN, PETS

When the new baby-sitter arrived at the house to care for little Johnny, she didn't realize what was in store for her. Johnny, four years old, had developed the habit of throwing himself forcibly and violently at people he hadn't met before. This night his greeting to the unsuspecting baby-sitter was so ardent that he fractured both her arms and wrists.

The sitter wondered if John's parents were responsible under the law to pay her hospital and doctor bills, since they knew of the boy's dangerous tendencies, but failed to warn her of them.

Parents Usually Not Liable
Ordinarily, parents are not liable to persons injured by their children because they do not direct or control the wrongful action, and therefore are not legally responsible.

However, if the act which causes the injury is done at the parent's direction or with his consent, or aids his business, the parent may be liable. And, as in the case of Johnny and the baby-sitter, the parent may be liable if he knows of the child's dangerous tendencies and fails to warn others of them.
